

Question

Night

---

No. 10

---

In Genesis 1, it says that God separated the waters.

Did God create the waters or were they already there?

What was the reasoning behind the years of silence?

Is there a difference between the church
and the kingdom of heaven?

Does Revelation 14:1 refer to predestination? Since God knows the future, should we believe in predestination? I know we can still convert others and that there isn't a limited number, but I was just curious.

What will happen to someone on judgment day who has never had access to the Bible? For example, North Korea's religious belief is atheist, and the people have very, very little information. If these people never had access to read the Bible, where would they go on judgment day?

Are all preachers
evangelists?

Why / why not?

Would we be considered 1st-century Christians because we follow the same morals,
rather than go by the
year or century?

Is it ok to miss a service
for something like a dinner with your parents, even though it's kind of putting family before God?

Is it a sin to use
self-defense?

Is it wrong for women to have pain management during labor since Eve's consequence for eating the forbidden fruit was pain in childbirth?

Cremation, is it wrong? I feel it is not right for me because

1. Who am I to destroy this body that God has given me and calls a temple?

2. We are to speak where the Bible speaks and be silent where it is silent. Most Scripture I find speaks of burial, not cremation (except for Saul whose body was decapitated by enemies)

Is it a good thing that Judas betrayed Jesus,
because if he didn't,
Jesus wouldn't have died?

Do we have the names of people who
nailed and hung Jesus
to the cross?

When will Jesus
come back?

When Jesus comes back,
will his spirit descend
from heaven everywhere
or will it be so big that we/everyone will see it?